Medical Student's Oath

As a medical student of Medical College and as a future physician

I will practice medicine to the highest standards of conduct by doing what is best for my patients and allowing neither greed, nor miserliness, nor thirst for great reputation to corrupt me.

I will cultivate the virtues of integrity, honesty, compassion, courage, respect, and self-sacrifice in myself and in my colleagues.

I will always seek to learn from the knowledge, wisdom, and experience of my mentors, May I never forget that medical education is a privilege bestowed on me by those who have

Today is the first step in a lifetime of learning, and I promise to honor the rich tradition embodied in learning the art and the science of medicine in Medical College.

I, affirm this day First August 2021 before my future colleagues in medical science that I will be true to this pledge.
